WOMEN DON'T NETWORK. THEY BUILD NETWORKS.

For 28 years, The Women In the Green Industry Conference has brought together the women moving the green industry forward. Not to swap business cards, but to swap ideas, strategies and the kind of honest conversations that change how you work. This year we're heading to New Orleans for three days of sessions on industry trends, business growth, professional development and wellness.

ARE YOU A WOMAN IN THE GREEN INDUSTRY? WIGI is a sisterhood — and more energizing than any conference you've been to. Three days here change how you show up for the other 362.

ARE YOU A BUSINESS OWNER OR MANAGER? Invest in the women who move your business forward. Send them to WIGI. They'll come back with sharper skills, fresh ideas and the kind of energy your whole team will feel.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

WIGI is designed for women in the green industry including business owners, office managers, purchasing agents, installers and crew members. It's ideal for anyone looking to grow their business, build new connections and strengthen professional relationships.
